The King Abdulaziz Centre for World Culture is a $450m project developed in Dhahran Saudi Arabia with 3 major exhibition / gallery spaces, library, conference centre, restaurants and commercial / retail development. Our role was as project managers and advisors in relation to the Interpretation and Exhibition fit out works. The exhibition and fit out works budget was $12m.

Our role comprised the development of the detailed client brief for the exhibition design and content requirements as well as the preparation of a comprehensive design brief for the architects and capital build works. The appointment included the preparation of a full Project Brief, Project Execution Plan, Project Management Plan and overall project delivery.

The works are currently on site.
